KEY INGREDIENTS

SIRE LINE

Dominance in sire lines is a key ingredient when choosing a stallion. Genetics move quickly, so breeding to a dominant sire line is extremely important, whether breeding to retain and race or breeding to sell yearlings. It would be hard to argue against the dominance of Somebeachsomewhere. In a breeding career cut short by his untimely death, he's firmly stamped himself as dominant with his offspring closing in on $200 million in earnings. Two of his sons stand in front carrying the torch today, Captaintreacherous, and Gulf Shores' sire Downbytheseaside, after earning over $2 million racing, has stood in Ohio and has been nothing short of spectacular. From just five crops of racing age, his offspring have earned nearly $28 million.

Downbytheseaside is now the sire of the fastest 2 yr old ever, Sippinonsearoc p,2,1:48.2. Don't get lost chasing sire lines that aren't dominant, this business moves too fast for you to not breed to the best!

MATERNAL LINE

It takes the complete package to be a successful stallion, and a sire producing maternal line is a key ingredient. Gulf Shores hails from arguably one of the most prolific ever, the Romola Hanover line. The sires produced in this line are too numerous to list! Two of the countless are legendary sires Captaintreacherous and Art Major. Their third dam is a champion mare named Rodine Hanover. In addition to being the dam of Real Artist, Rodine Hanover just happens to also be the third dam of Gulf Shores. So not only is Gulf Shores from the hottest paternal line in the sport, he comes from a maternal line that time and time again produces winning sires!
